

WEI CONDUCTS ASSESSMENTS BASED ON YOUR CURRENT IT ENVIRONMENT, YOUR BUSINESS GOALS, AND FUTURE NEEDS.

ASSESSMENT

WEI is dedicated to meeting your company's individual needs. Very often an assessment is the first step in developing a path to a desired outcome. To understand and create a custom solution, WEI assesses your company in detail in five categories: network, storage, virtualization, infrastructure, and security.

1. Network Assessment

The network plays an integral role in driving digital business forward. WEI looks at different aspects of your network including its wired network, wireless network, and its data center. By using established strategies and best practices, we will ensure your company achieves its goals. WEI will make sure that your network resources are optimized to peak performance levels, all while operating in a fast, reliable, and flexible way.

2. Storage Assessment

Our client engagement begins with an analysis of your current storage environment, an assessment of business workflow, and a contrast of current objectives against projected growth. WEI provides the knowledge to help users realize a truly heterogeneous storage environment. WEI has experience with storage from manufacturers such as HPE, Dell EMC, IBM, HDS, 3-PAR, NetApp, and Pillar systems.

3. Virtualization Assessment

The use of cloud-based models to deliver IT services is exploding. Those models mean different things to different organizations, though. In this category of assessment, WEI will analyze your company's virtual strategy. Are you using the cloud? If so, to what extent? The perfect fit is different for everyone. Whatever your preference toward cloud services, the WEI Cloud team will work with you to establish the best strategies, technologies, and policies for an optimized cloud plan that not only works upon installation, but well into the future.

4. Infrastructure Assessment

The Data Center is evolving. Transformational technologies—such as high speed networks, converged and hyper converged infrastructures, software-defined components, and hybrid cloud appliances—are shrinking footprints and eliminating technology stovepipes. WEI will look at your company's infrastructure: power and cooling systems, racks, data center, servers, and computers. This category of assessment will be the primary base of the services and products WEI provides your company. The end result is a winning formula that delivers innovation.

5. Security Assessment

WEI will consider your company's security as a priority. As the network expands outside of traditionally controlled environments, access points and devices become more mobile and diverse. This makes it even more important to control and protect data. WEI will help your company control access through new policies, permissions, firewalls, passwords, encryption, and other security best practices such as non-penetrating testing.

In all cases, WEI will deliver findings and recommendations from relevant assessment data. Contact your WEI team to see which assessment is right for you, and to discover if there may be funding in place to subsidize or eliminate the cost of your assessment.
